

Bourne
toWrite...
creative writing
workshops

Dragoman

A timed exercise

by Paige Modestou

An opening has recently become available for my client who is a well-known and reputable dragon slaying company.

My client is looking for a full time professional with at least 3 years' experience and 100+ kills. Your role will include hunting down, capturing and slaying wild dragons. Excellent bonuses are included such as commission for each dragon and free travel (please note that travel is only free on the back of the dragon and my client will not be responsible for any injuries should you fall, get eaten or burned alive) we recommend that you take out the necessary insurance policies. Further perks of this job include princess rescuing, free barbecue facilities all year round and fire breathing classes every Tuesday and Thursday.

To apply for this hot and exciting role, simply provide us with your kill streak, dragon capture records and a reference from your previous or current employer.